JAPANESE ADMIT HSIFENGKOU PASS DEFEAT

SHANGHAI BOMB PLOT

THREE KOREANS ARRESTED

ATTACK ON MR. ARIYOSHI

DRAMATIC RAID IN HONGKEW

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1911. Received, March 18, 8.50 a.m.)

Shanghai, Mar. 18.
Lighting raids were being carried out in all parts of Shanghai last night and in the early hours of this morning, following the discovery of a Korean plot to assassinate Mr. Ariyoshi, the Japanese Minister to China.

Three Koreans were dramatically arrested in a Hongkew Chinese restaurant last night.

They are alleged to have been planning an attempt on the life of Mr. Ariyoshi and other prominent Japanese officials last night and it is believed that the attempt would have been made when Mr. Ariyoshi emerged from a geisha house in Boone Road, where he was known to be dining.

BOMB AND HAND-GRENADE.

A bomb and hand-grenade were found in the possession of the three Koreans arrested, but they had no opportunity of using their deadly weapons to resist arrest.

The police had been forewarned of the plot by Japanese secret service agents, who tracked down the plotters and guided a large force of International Settlement police and detectives to the restaurant where the Koreans were dining.

PLOTTERS SURPRISED.

They were taken completely by surprise and were covered by armed men wearing steel waistcoats before they could make use of their weapons.

The bomb and hand grenade were found concealed in the restaurant in a luncheon basket. They are believed to be of European manufacture.

The Japanese police, in co-operation with the Settlement and French Concession authorities, intent on making a clean sweep of Korean revolutionaries in Shanghai are now carrying out lightning raids on all likely hotbeds of conspiracy.—Reuter.

TO BE CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT ON JAPANESE MINISTER.

Shanghai, Mar. 18.
The Three Koreans arrested last night in connexion with the plot to assassinate Mr. Ariyoshi and other Japanese officials in Shanghai were found to be armed with loaded automatic pistols as well as a hand grenade and a time bomb.

They will be charged with the attempted assassination of the Japanese Minister.—Reuter.

PROFIT-TAKING IN N.Y.

MARKET WITHSTANDS PRESSURE

New York, Mar. 17.
The Wall Street Journal reports that the market passed a severe test, heavy profit-taking pressing prices down 1 to 3 points. The general list, however, resisted throughout, rallying several times before gently easing off at the close. Profit-taking and dissatisfaction over the Farm Bill eased the grain market. Commodities were similarly affected.

The New York Federal Reserve reduced its bill buying rate for maturities up to 90 days from 3½ to 3%.

Time money was quoted at 3½ for 60 and 90 days.—Per Swan, Culbertson and Fritz.

GOLD HOARDERS DISGORGE

11TH-HOUR RUSH IN NEW YORK

NEW CURRENCY BILL

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1911. Received, March 18, 8.50 a.m.)

New York, Mar. 17.
The drastic measures taken by the Roosevelt Administration to induce hoarders of gold coins to disgorge have had the desired effect.

There was a last-minute rush by hoarders this afternoon to return their gold to the banks before the expiry of the time-limit and several banks were compelled to remain open after normal hours to meet the situation.

It is estimated that the effect of the Government's action has been to draw gold to the value of over $350,000,000 out of various "stockings" for return to banks in the course of the past week.

EXTENSION OF PRIVILEGE.

It is learned from Washington that the Banking Committee of the House of Representatives has approved the Steagall Bill which provides for an extension of the privilege of borrowing the new currency from the Federal Reserve Banks to thousands of State banks which are not members of the Federal Reserve system.—Reuter.

HINNOY TRAGEDY SURVIVORS

IN OPEN BOAT IN BLAZING HEAT

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1911. Received, March 18, 10.15 a.m.)

Colombo, Mar. 18.
The survivors of the Hinnoy disaster—13 of a crew of 28, fifteen being killed outright in a boiler explosion—arrived here to-day aboard the Naples Maru.

They relate a terrible two-days' experience in an open boat in the Indian Ocean, sitting neck-high in seawater in an effort to escape from the scorching heat.

One of the men died from exposure. Five ships passed their little craft without noticing them.—Reuter.

An unnumbered hut in the Shatin district was destroyed by fire yesterday. No person was injured and it is believed the outbreak was caused by some fire crackers with which a Chinese boy was playing. The damage is estimated at $200.

INFANTRY ATTACKS STOP

INTENSIVE AIR RAIDS SUBSTITUTED

FORTY BOMBERS IN ACTION

(From Our Special Correspondent).

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1911. Received, March 18, 8.11 a.m.)

Peking, Mar. 18.
Costly attempts to force Hsifengkou Pass by infantry attack have, for the time being, been abandoned by the Japanese and only minor skirmishes between the forces occurred yesterday.

The Japanese infantry are reported to be withdrawing out of the range of the deadly night attacks by the Big Sword battalions of General Soong Chih-yuan.

At present, unless they create a diversion in the Shanhaikwan region with the object of threatening Soong Chih-yuan's lines from the rear, (considered a distinct possibility), the Japanese are hoping to break down the morale of his forces by intensive aerial bombardment.

No fewer than forty military aeroplanes flew over the Hsifengkou Pass yesterday and dropped a large number of bombs.

According to the latest Chinese despatches, the bombers inflicted comparatively little damage. The situation at other points along the Great Wall was quiet yesterday.

Soong Chih-yuan is convinced that Hsifengkou Pass can be held against any infantry frontal attacks, for weeks if necessary.

He states that the Japanese are finding difficulty in bringing up reinforcements from Pingchuan owing to the rough intervening country. He anticipates that further troops will come via Chengtehfu (Jehol City).—Our Own Correspondent.

CHANG TSO-HSIANG BOMBING.

Peking, Mar. 18.
"The Iron and Blood Society" which was responsible for threats against firms dealing in Japanese goods have written to Chinese newspapers admitting that the bomb throwing at the residence of General Chang Tso-hsiang was ordered by the Society.

The letter denounces Chang Tso-hsiang's rapid retreat from Jehol City.

The Society threatens the life of Chang Tso-hsiang.—Special.

INDIA'S FEDERAL CONSTITUTION

HISTORIC WHITE PAPER PUBLISHED

OFFICIAL SCHEME

London, Mar. 18.

Britain's proposals for the creation of a Federal Constitution in India, consisting of autonomous British Indian Provinces and such Indian States as choose to enter the federations, are contained in an official White Paper on Indian constitutional reform issued to-day.

In the Central Federation and the Provinces, a Council of Ministers will be responsible to the elected Legislatures, but the Governor-General will have special responsibilities, having full discretion relating to public order, finance, the civil service and the minorities. He may act as he thinks fit, either by Bills which will have the force of law if not passed or by Ordinances. Any act approved by the Governor-General may be disallowed by His Majesty in Council.

In the event of a disagreement between the Chambers of the Federal Government, a joint sitting will be summoned. In the event of a breakdown of the Constitution, the Governor-General and Provincial Governors may assume all powers.

AUTONOMY OF THE PROVINCES

The Government's proposals will be examined by a joint Select Committee of both Houses of Parliament in consultation with representatives of Indian opinion.

Final proposals, in the form of a Bill, will be based on the committee's report.

By the Government proposals, the provinces are given autonomy and to the Federal Government is conceded responsible government over the whole field of the administration allotted to the federation, except in regard to certain reserved subjects.

The Federation will consist of the autonomous provinces of British India and the Indian States. It will be brought about by the princes surrendering the defined corpus of their present sovereign rights not so surrendered and unaffected by any other consideration than the existing suzerainty of the Crown.

TWO CONDITIONS.

It is a condition of the setting up of the federation, firstly, that the rulers of States representing not less than half the aggregate population of the Indian States and entitled to not less than half the States' seats in the Upper House of the Legislature shall have executed the necessary instruments of accession; and secondly that a reserve bank, free from political influence, will have been set up and already be successfully operating.

The Governor-General and Viceroy will have a dual capacity, Governor-General as head of the Federation, and Viceroy as conducting relations with the States outside the federal sphere.

VICEROY'S POSITION.

As Governor-General he will be aided and advised by a Council of Ministers responsible to the Legislature in all matters save those to his personal administration, namely defence, external affairs and ecclesiastical affairs.

The Governor-General is also given special responsibility for certain purposes including the following:—
Prevention of grave menace to peace or tranquillity.
Safeguarding of the financial stability and credit of the federation.
Safeguarding of the legitimate interests of the minorities.
Securing to members of the public services of any rights provided for them by the constitution, advising on and the safeguarding of their legitimate interests.
Protection of rights of any Indian state.
Prevention of commercial dis-

SOVIET STANDS PAT

REFUSES RELEASE OF BRITONS

DEATH PENALTY OFFENCE

Moscow, Mar. 17.
The Soviet Government has refused to take any action in the matter of the British employees of Metropolitan Vickers, Limited who are under arrest.

M. Litvinoff, the Foreign Minister, has informed Sir Esmond Ovey, the British Ambassador, that the arrested men will shortly be tried by the Supreme Court on a charge of counter-revolutionary activities, for which the penalty is death.

SOVIET JUSTICE.

M. Litvinoff rebutted the idea that British citizens living in Russia should not be subject to Soviet justice and expressed the hope that the case would not disturb Anglo-Soviet relations which were far more important than firms and individuals.—Reuter.

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1911. Received, March 18, 10.15 a.m.)

Moscow, March 17.
In his reply to the British protest, M. Litvinoff also stated:

WHY THE ALARM?

"No pressure and no threats can cause the Soviet to relax the law in favour of British citizens. 'If the British Government and Embassy is so certain of the innocence of the men arrested, their alarm over their fate is incomprehensible.'"

SHOW TRIAL.

There will be an open "show" trial before the Supreme Court of the Soviet, probably a month hence.—Reuter.

NEW CONVERSION LOAN

2½ PER CENT. ISSUE TO BE MADE

London, Mar. 17.
Notice is given by the Treasury of a new issue of 2½% Conversion Loan dated 1944/49, to be offered by tender or otherwise, as the Treasury may from time to time direct.

The first tenders will be received on 24th March, at the same time as tenders for Treasury bills and up to an amount not exceeding £5,000,000. Each tender must be for an amount of not less than £10,000.

The object of the issue is to clear up the volume of Treasury bills, which, owing to the financing of £30,000,000 of foreign credits in the early part of the year, exceeds the amount ordinarily outstanding.—British Wireless.

FASHION NEWS.

The Evening Silhouette.

There is a flowery feeling throughout the new colour ranges; you find marigolds and nasturtiums, oranges and yellows, for the daytime, and combinations of lovely sweet-pea tones in many layers for evening as well as several in hyacinth-blue. The reds and pinks of some of the evening frocks make one think of dahlias.

Black we always have with us, white also, and if your taste leads you to queer green-blues, purples, and browns, and olive greens, you can indulge in the same.

Clashing combinations are a feature of the new palette.

There is immense latitude in the evening silhouette. Be a fluted pillar, if you like, or a modernised Josephine, or let your skirts spread a la Pompadour. Or you can swathe your body and let the folds of your skirt hang limply to the floor. Have your corsage as short as you like, or adopt a cuirass bodice with a flare below it, or a sheath Princess line—the survival of the fittest.

You may have Spanish tulle ruffles on your skirt, or a full skirt gathered all round the waist. If you want to make a sensation, you can appear as a modern Isabelle of Bavaria, with a stiff bustle in the back and a plumb-line silhouette from neck to heels.

Catholicity is found in details. Your neckline may be high or low or medium; square, V-shaped or oval; your sleeves may be non-existent, short capes, or puffs, or capelets to the elbow, or they may come down, slim and clinging right over your hand.

Helpful Scissors

Keep a pair of paper scissors near the comfortable chair that you sit in to read your magazines and papers. When you see something you like to make, to wear, to do about the house that interests you, cut it out immediately and file it in your household file that you keep handy. You lose half the helpful hints that you think you'll go back and get unless you anchor them immediately where you can find them at a moment's notice.

SHOULD SECRETARIES MAKE-UP?

The girl in the old nursery rhyme asserted that her face was her fortune, and though I personally have no aspirations, towards chorus or screen, I think the statement is just as true to-day as it ever was.

It is not long since the pretty girl was regarded with suspicion. She was labelled brainless, and looked upon as a fluffy little fool, and as men liked to make a fuss of her and display their protective instincts, girls with good looks demurely played their parts and suppressed any brains they might possess. Feminine helplessness was the fashion, and woman may as well be dead as out of fashion.

Then came the necessity for women to earn a living, and, working on the assumption that pretty girls were idiots, men jumped to the conclusion that only severely plain girls would be a success in an office. For it is remarkable how frequently a "muddy complexion" is allied with a muddled brain, and then they gradually began to discover that a girl who is easy to look at can also be a first-class worker.

Swing of the Pendulum.

Now, the pendulum has swung in the opposite direction, and in most modern offices a smart, well-cared-for appearance is almost essential if a girl aspires to a decently paid, responsible job. Men, as usual, are a few years behind the times, and an office chief will often thunder diatribes against the iniquities of make-up. But I wonder what he would think if the feminine members of his staff all turned up one morning lacking those subtle applications of rouge, those delicate touches of powder, those deft, firm strokes that give eyebrows character and distinction, and those vigorous rubbings that cause finger nails to shine like little mirrors.

They might almost be moved to inquire acidly if Miss Smith had forgotten to wash this morning! There may be one girl in a thousand so blessed by Nature that she can remain innocent of make-up and still look well dressed. But the rest of us must make up or run the risk of dropping so low in our employer's estimation that the next time a cut in staff is made

TO-DAY'S RECIPES. For the Sweet Course.

Orange Pudding

Line a pie dish with pastry, put a strip round the edge, and scallop the edges. Take the weight of two eggs in butter and sugar, cream together, add the beaten eggs one at a time, and then sieve in 5oz. flour mixed with a pinch of salt and ½ teaspoonful baking powder. Grate the rind of two oranges, squeeze out the juice, and mix in well. Pour into pie dish, place on a baking tin in a moderate oven and bake for twenty to thirty minutes.

Indian Rice

Cook a tablespoonful of rice in a quart of milk for five hours, then add sugar to taste, 4 oz. muscatels, 4 oz. coarsely chopped, blanched almonds, and 3 chopped bananas. Pour into a greased pie dish, and brown.

Hasty Pudding

Sieve 1oz. flour and a pinch of salt into a basin, add ½ oz. sugar, and break in an egg, stirring gradually and beating until smooth. Add ½ gill milk and mix until smooth.

Heat ½ pint milk to boiling point, pour gradually on the batter, stirring all the time, return to the saucepan and stir until it thickens. Pour into a greased fireproof dish, sprinkle with powdered cinnamon or grated nutmeg, and brown under the grill or in the oven.

we, most regrettably, find our services dispensed with.

For some incomprehensible reason, men insist on considering make-up an affectation. It is nothing of the kind. It is a stern necessity. It gives the best possible shield against an inferiority complex. It gives a girl that touch of assurance that may make the difference between pounding a typewriter at two pounds a week and sitting in a glass-partitioned office of her own. The girl who uses make-up wisely and judiciously shows that she has a proper respect for herself. She insists on always looking her best, and when a woman looks her best she also works her best. In fact, even if she rather disliked the idea of making up her face, a girl would be fully justified in acquiring the art solely in her employer's interests!—By a Business Girl.

CHAPTER XXIX

Jerry, wearing a dinner coat, looking assured and elegant, sat at a table close to the square cleared for the dancers. At his side was a young girl in a frothy yellow dress. A very pretty girl.

Sheila could scarcely believe her eyes. Jerry here in New York! He knew her address yet he had not tried to reach her. Of course he had no way of knowing that she would be dancing at this club.

She tried to think. Had Jerry recognized her? There was no time to speculate. The master of ceremonies was nodding to the orchestra, raising one hand to quiet the applause. Again the spotlight crossed the floor to find Ted and Sheila. Again they were dancing.

The encore was an Apache number, requiring only the swiftest change of costume. Ted had caught up a hat and Sheila a handkerchief which she tied about her waist. They circled the floor in perfect union. Ted bent over Sheila menacingly but without touching her. Sheila evaded gracefully.

Suddenly Ted seized her, swung her roughly this way and that. She slid across the floor, crumpled easily and waited. He caught her up again and they danced together. She awayed past the table where Jerry sat, paused, could have touched him but did not meet his eyes. Did he recognize her?

Only when at last the dance was ended and she and Ted ran forward to receive the burst of applause was Sheila sure that Jerry knew her. She sat at one of the tables, Ted Rodney opposite. Now the men and women who had been watching them were dancing. She saw Jerry excuse himself from the others at his table. He was making his way across the room toward her.

"But I did call you," he was insisting a few minutes later. "I called the minute I got in. They told me you were dancing here and that's way we came."

"Who is we?"

"My sisters and my brother-in-law." He explained that Marcia, the older of his two sisters, was married and the other man in the party was her husband. The girl in yellow was his sister, Jean.

Jerry added that he had rearranged their plans for the evening, insisting that they should come to the Club Volens in order to see Sheila dance.

The situation was awkward. Then Ted Rodney saved the day. "Won't you sit down?" he said to Jerry. A few minutes later Ted drifted away. He and Sheila had danced their last number for that evening.

The girl looked across at Jerry. He had come to New York without writing to her. This was the trip that had been planned so that he might see her, yet here he was with a group of friends, talking to her only because chance had brought them together.

She could not believe that he had telephoned.

"I don't want to keep you from your friends," Sheila said, half-rising to end the conversation.

Jerry rose too and stood beside her. He seemed relieved. Wasn't he going to introduce her to his sisters?

Apparently he was not. It's been great to see you again, Sheila," he said. I'll call you tomorrow. What time?"

She told him any time in the morning would do. As she watched him rejoin his party she was sure that he would not call. Well, she would save her face there. She would not be at home to miss the call!

Hurrying to the dressing room Sheila slipped a nickel in the coin telephone and gave the Samper's number.

Tillie answered the call. Sheila asked shakily, "May I come up and stay all night? Something has happened. Oh, no—it isn't serious! I just don't want to be alone."

Tillie Samper said cheerily that they would be glad to have her. Was she afraid to come to the Heights alone? If so one of them would be glad to call for her.

"I'll take a taxi," Sheila said wearily. "I'm all in anyhow."

Two hours later she was crying herself to sleep in Tillie's bed.

"Why don't you stay here all the time, Sheila?" the sisters suggested. The suggestion seemed a good one. The following Saturday Sheila moved her trunk to the Samper apartment.

Jerry telephoned to Ma Lowell's rooming house twice. The second time Sheila was there and talked to him. No, she said, she wasn't angry. She had engagements, that was all. He should have let her know when he was coming.

"You are being silly," Jerry told her, laughing. It was not a serious matter to him. "Why not have dinner with me to-night?"

"You mean with you and your sisters?"

"Hardly! How on earth could we talk with them around?"

"When am I going to meet them?" she asked in a voice she scarcely recognized as her own.

"I don't know. Do you really want to?"

"Of course."

"Well, then I'll fix it up some time, but that's not the point. I want to know if you're dining with me to-night?"

"Call me at 6," Sheila told him.

At 6.30 she slipped into a movie theatre, feeling very forlorn indeed. Thus she missed Jerry's call and wept because she missed it.

Sheila found that living with the Sampers was pleasant. The girls' father and mother were old-fashioned parents. They had lived in the same spacious apartment for years. Mr. Samper at one time had had holdings of considerable value on New York's lower East Side. Recently these had shrunk. He had retired and with the salary the girls earned the family lived as comfortably as before.

None of the sisters were beautiful but all were attractive. They had found themselves on the stage by unusual circumstances. Tillie, Clara and Evelyn, riding together on a Fifth Avenue bus and thinking themselves the only passengers, had been crooning together, blending their voices in close harmony. It happened that Jake Tolman, a theatrical agent, sitting a few seats behind, heard them. It was not until the bus had reached Washington Heights that he had convinced them he was not a masquerade on a cheap flirtation.

Even then they declined to give him their names. Cautiously he followed to their address, learned their name and eventually won Mrs. Samper's favour. He proposed that if the girls would let him act as their agent they could go on the stage as headliners. They would never have to begin on a lower rung of the ladder.

They appeared on Broadway first in a musical show, a fast moving, nautical piece in which they were an instant hit. Mother Samper, in a hired car, escorted them to and from the theatre. Thus they seldom met other stage folk.

The five girls crooned in close harmony but only four signed with Jake. This left the fifth for fill-in dates. Any one of the girls could take a night off without even asking permission. The fifth took her place and no one could tell the difference.

Sheila roomed with Eve, the youngest and prettiest Samper. She liked the neighbourhood, the friendliness and the homelike atmosphere in which she found herself.

Jim Blaine, back in town, came to see Sheila and after that dropped in frequently.

"I believe he likes Tillie," Eve confided. Jim admitted as much to Sheila. He told her that he had asked Tillie to marry him and she had agreed. The other four girls would carry on in the show while Jim took his bride on a honeymoon.

Sheila drove with Jim and Tillie to the city hall for the marriage licence. "We're going to have a real home, too," Jim told her.

Tillie laid a tiny, ringed hand on Sheila's. "Of course we are. It can be done, honey, even in the city. Even in show business. Wait and see!"

Sheila left the happy pair at the station from which, surrounded by Sampers, they were to start on their honeymoon. For some reason Sheila felt lonely. She was glad she was to have dinner with Dick Stanley.

DIOCESAN SCHOOL OLD BOYS

ASSOCIATION FORMED AND RULES FRAMED

The Diocesan School Old Boys' Association has been formed, of which the Bishop of Victoria, Rt. Rev. Ronald Hall, is the Patron and Mr. Chau Yue-teng the President. The Association's constitution was adopted at a tea party at the Exchange Restaurant yesterday afternoon when several old boys enrolled as members.

Mr. Chan Yue-teng presided and was supported by Mr. W. A. Zimmermann (Hon. Secretary), Messrs. C. B. R. Sargent, J. M. Wong, R. Drude, and W. N. Thomas Tam.

Two amendments to the constitution, namely that 20 and 12 members, form a quorum at the annual general meeting and the extraordinary meeting respectively, were approved.

Mr. J. D. Bush moved that a fee of $30 be made payable for Life Members. The motion was carried.

One member queried whether a boy who had attended the Diocesan Boys' School for even one hour, could claim to be an old boy. The Association, he said, should be confined only to D.B.S. past pupils and not to members of other old school associations.

Dr. Li Shu-fan urged that the more who joined the O.B.A., the merrier, and held that as long as a boy's name was registered in the school, he was an old boy.

The officials for 1933 have been appointed as follows:

Patron, the Bishop of Hongkong; President, Mr. Chau Yue-teng; Vice-Presidents, Messrs. C. B. R. Sargent and J. M. Wong; Hon. Secretary Mr. W. A. Zimmermann; Hon. Treasurer Mr. T. S. W. Chan; General Committee—Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., Dr. Arthur Woo, Messrs. Peter Sin, W. N. Thomas Tam, Robert Drude, Kenneth Chan, J. D. Bush and Kwok Chan.

Gave the world this amazing dentifrice

Listerine Tooth Paste, developed by the makers of Listerine Antiseptic, is pre-eminent the dentifrice for modern people.

It contains newly discovered ingredients for arresting tooth decay...removing stains and tartar...strengthening the gums...purifying and refreshing the whole mouth. Its gentle but effective polishing agents will not injure delicate tooth enamel nor irritate gum tissues. It is absolutely safe to use at all ages and under all conditions.

Delightfully refreshing and exhilarating, Listerine Tooth Paste imparts a sensation of health and cleanliness which you always associate with Listerine Antiseptic.

You will be amazed, too, at its moderate price—considerably less than other quality dentifrices! Try a tube. Compare Listerine Tooth Paste with any dentifrice, regardless of price, for actual results!

The makers of Listerine Tooth Paste (and Listerine Antiseptic) recommend the regular use of Prophylactic Tooth Brushes.

BRITISH PLAN FOR DISARMAMENT

COOL RECEPTION IN GERMANY

London, Mar. 17.
The MacDonald disarmament scheme has had a good press reception in Britain.

The Times commenting on the proposals says they are bold, comprehensive and precise, reflecting credit on the British delegation and the Premier who presented them to the world in so swift and resolute a manner.

But the plan has had a cool reception in Germany, as the papers complain there is no sign of arms equality in them.

The Italian press studiously refrains from commenting, but it is understood the Government approves in principle, especially with the naval proposals, while rejecting the details.

American Reaction.
The United States are warmly eulogistic. The New York Times declares the State Department has definitely declared that America is likely to adopt the MacDonald plan as a basis for discussion.

France has received the proposals with reserve the press pointing out that this is the fifty-seventh disarmament plan in 18 months, while paying a tribute to Mr. MacDonald's goodwill.

But the Nationalists sharply attack the proposed reduction of land forces.—Reuter's Special.

Rome Activity.
Rome, Mar. 17.
Mussolini's advisers are busy preparing the agenda for the week-end conversations with Mr. MacDonald and Sir John Simon, which are expected to continue almost without a break till Monday afternoon when the British ministers leave. The journey both ways will probably be made by air.—Reuter's Special.

BRITAIN'S PLAN FOR DISARMAMENT

The British effort to get the Disarmament Conference down to practicalities, by evolving a definite scheme in which all nations shall participate, has resulted in the tabling of what must be described as a bold and sweeping scheme. How far it will succeed depends largely on the spirit in which its provisions are received by the nations most affected. It is certainly a clear-cut contribution towards a general agreement. The naval position is left largely where it is, excepting that an effort is to be made to bring France and Italy within the provisions of the London Treaty, while Germany is to be freed from the naval provisions of the Versailles Treaty after 1936. It is when we come to air and land forces that the full extent of the British proposals is seen. To take air forces first, it will be recalled that in December last, Britain suggested an immediate reduction to the level of the United Kingdom (1,434 machines), and thereafter an immediate cut of 33 per cent. on the forces thus reduced, including the British. The scheme now put forward, by which the machines of the leading Powers would be brought down to a uniform figure of 500, means that after reaching the present British level, there would be a 66 per cent. cut, or double that proposed in December. The effect of this may be gathered by pointing out that France would have to give up well over 1,800 machines, America 1,250, Japan 1,140, Italy 1,000, and Britain just under 1,000. The extent of these cuts is sufficient to prove that Britain is serious when she seeks to secure an early reduction in this sphere, to be followed by eventual abolition of all fighting craft. Coming to land forces, Britain makes a further distinct step forward by setting out specific figures for Continental armies. All that she was able to declare in December was approval, as a basis for discussion, of the Hoover plan for a one-third reduction in the ordinary "police component." The figures now put forward, especially as they affect France and Germany, will possibly raise considerable controversy. These two nations, so far as home forces are concerned, are put on an absolute equality, but it is difficult to visualise the effect of this proposal in the absence of information with regard to forces in both countries which are not strictly Army units. We refer to the gendarmerie, trained on a military basis, and to the several semi-military organisations in Germany outside the Reichswehr. If these were excluded, it would mean that Germany would be permitted a hundred per cent. increase in her Army, which is limited under the Versailles Treaty to 100,000 men, while France would suffer a reduction from about 350,000 to 200,000. We can hardly imagine that this is the intention, in view of the widespread feeling that Germany's claim to equality should not result in re-arming on her part. These and other points will no doubt be cleared up as further details come through. At any rate, Britain, herself prepared to make substantial sacrifices, expects other nations to do likewise.

Isolation Impossible

A striking proof of the essential economic unity of the world may be found in the fact that Russia's prospects of raising its standard of living are admitted to be linked up with the outlook for revival in other countries. A rise in commodity prices, if it could be achieved without harmful inflation, would be the surest sign of an early return to normal conditions. And such a rise would substantially relieve the grave problems which Stalin and other Soviet leaders face as the first Five-Year merges into the second. Responsible Soviet officials have viewed the progress of the world crisis with decidedly mixed feelings. At first there was a tendency to exult, as Communists, in the misfortunes of the capitalist system. But the Soviet Union began also to feel the pinch of the world crisis. Soviet exports in 1931 amounted to 811,200,000 roubles (about $410,000,000). This represented a decline of 21.7 per cent, by comparison with 1930. And during the first ten months of 1932 Soviet exports were valued at only 461,400,000 roubles, a figure which marked a further decline of 31.5 per cent. In view of Russia's failure to build any very large credit bridges with the outside world, Soviet exports determine the course of Soviet imports. Falling prices and contracting markets limiting Soviet sales abroad automatically restrict Soviet possibilities of purchasing goods in foreign countries. With smaller stocks of foreign currency, the Soviet Government is obliged to ration the country's imports, to concentrate on purchases of essential machinery, equipment and raw material, to the almost complete exclusion of the goods for immediate consumption which are so badly needed in Russia.

An Automatic Interpreter

A touching faith in the power of a British newspaper and in the inventive genius of the white man is evinced by a Berber chieftain who lives in the Atlas Mountains of Morocco. He wrote to The Times correspondent at Tangier asking him to obtain through his paper—"the origin and source of all knowledge"—certain information. Where could he obtain, he asked, one of those small and inexpensive machines to be affixed to a loud-speaker which would translate into Arabic all air communications that are received from abroad in foreign languages. What put this splendid idea into the chieftain's thought? But who shall say that such a thing as an automatic translator is impossible? What about the telephonic device whereby words spoken into a receiver at one end become gibberish to anyone listening in during their transmission, but are sifted out into their original sense to the hearer at the other end? Such a thing a few years ago would also have been deemed "impossible." It may be the Berber chieftain's faith is better founded than the scepticism of some whom his request will greatly amuse.

SECURITY

By E. L. ALLEN

Ask almost any father in these days to what he intends to put his son, and you will find that his thoughts are turning towards the Civil Service or one of the big Banks or perhaps the Co-operative Wholesale Society. If then you go on to press him for a reason, he will tell you frankly that his reason is that in such spheres he will find for the lad the one thing he most wants for him—security! It is difficult to blame a parent for giving such considerations the upper hand, in face of the appalling uncertainty which rules everywhere in the world of business.

It is from the same motive that we keep our savings in the bank till one day there is an issue of Government stock, whereupon we all rush to invest and the subscription list is closed half an hour after it opened. We have learned by bitter experience that it is better to have 3½% and be sure of it than to draw dividends which to-day promise riches and to-morrow vanish into thin air. The insurance companies live by this craving for safety which is so deeply rooted in us all. For an adequate consideration, they will safeguard us against every imaginable misfortune, and if we are not able to make this provision for ourselves a kindly State will nowadays take on the duty for us.

A MASTER-WORD

Security is one of the master-words in the international situation at the moment. For it Japan pours her troops into Manchuria and China marshals hers to resist her advance. For it France contracts her military alliances and Germany demands the right to re-arm. At the Disarmament Conference, no one is interested in disarmament, but speak that magic word "security" and Geneva begins to buzz with argument and controversy.

Yet security, much as we crave for it, seems in these days to be receding ever farther from our reach. Statesmen despair of ever attaining it in the political sphere, and finance is constantly adding new items to its list of uncertainties. Not the gold reserves of France, not the enormous natural resources of America, not the economic planning of Soviet Russia is able to keep the wolf of unemployment from the door of these countries. The pride of the pound sterling has been humbled and even the gold dollar cannot look her weaker sisters in the face as unconcerned as she once did. The whole effort, in fact, to provide ourselves with some sort of danger-proof security is on the point of breaking down in hopeless failure. The thing we want is simply not to be had.

What life would teach us is that safety is only for those who scorn to seek it, who are prepared to venture out into life and ask no guarantees against the future. The true security lies not in our circumstances but in ourselves, not in insuring beforehand against every possible contingency and some impossible ones, but in being oneself the kind of man who can face the worst that may arise and still be undaunted. Security is not to be won by lying tied up at the quayside all one's lifetime, it comes only when the ship is so well and truly built that it can venture out into the worst storm and know that it will win through. Not the man who crouches down in the bottom of the trench is safe, but he is safe who goes over the top and out into No Man's Land, there to win a new position from the enemy or perish in the attempt.

SAFETY FIRST!

When a few years ago a great political party appealed to the British electorate in the name of "Safety First", the electorate refused to give it a mandate. To adopt such a slogan was to misjudge the temper of the British people. "Safety First" may be an admirable enough motto when one is descending from a tram or driving a car, but to win and hold an Empire calls for very different qualities, for imagination, enterprise, and daring. We need these to-day as much as ever.

I doubt whether any words have ever been written on this subject of security to equal those which Rupert Brooke wrote on his way to the Dardanelles in 1914. "We have built a house that is not for Time's throwing. We have gained a peace unshaken by pain for ever. War knows no power. Safe shall be my going. Secretly armed against all death's endeavour. Safe though all safety's lost; safe where men fall; And if these poor limbs die, safest of all."

TRYING ANOTHER PLAN!

Someone has cryptically—but perhaps more truthfully than the average man would care to acknowledge—remarked, "Christianity has never really been tried." The man in the street who has been brought up to call himself a Christian, and has been trained from his childhood to think of his nation as a Christian nation, and has glibly talked of other nations as "heathen nations," is mildly startled by such a remark as, "Christianity has never really been tried," and he begins to refute this assertion, but how far can he really get when he has to produce facts to corroborate his statements?

Even the devout religionist smoothly lays aside some of the great Master Christian's teachings in the four Gospels, practically taking an anodyne to lull his conscience, remarking finally, "It can't be done to-day, not in that way. Times have changed." Yes, Times have changed. But look at the world to-day. Have times changed for the better? Would not the simple methods of the Nazarene bring what the world really needs?

We have read and heard much of the Russian Five-Year Plan, we have watched apprehensively, fearfully, wistfully to see what the outcome would be. Who is willing to try a five-year plan of really forming his life on the model of Jesus' teachings in their entirety? Which country will be the first to adopt Christianity into its government and its relations with other nations as the only factors? When will Christians and Christian nations really try Christianity?

SUSAN F. CAMPBELL

"I'll play another, if you say, m'am—but I'm getting terribly behind with the housework."

BULLS AND INNERS

From the Office Butts

The arrival of the Hagenbeck menagerie in Hongkong this week reminds us that there's only one animal of which the Bengal tiger is afraid. That's the Bengal tiger.

Possibly the reason so many Hongkong girls are allowed a latch-key by their parents is that the latter are so rarely home to let them in.

Thanks to the A.D.C. we've seen a lot more of the Peak girls this week than for a long time past.

Amongst current news may be noted the fact that the Electric Company, judging from its good year, is a live wire that knows what's what!

We wonder the defence in these bird cruelty cases didn't argue that they thought Java sparrows were sardines.

Shanghai divorcees are, we read, increasing. Several decrees higher, in fact.

'OVALTINE' rusks, because of their delicious flavour, digestibility and very high nutritive value, may be taken with advantage at any time. With cheese, butter or potted meat they comprise an ideal light repast. They are so crunchy and crisp.

Baked to the right degree of hardness, these Rusks contain a proportion of 'Ovaltine' which gives them a delicious flavour as well as making them easy to digest and highly nourishing. They are made from unbleached, unadulterated wheaten flour, from which none of the nutritive properties have been removed by the process of grinding, and have been demonstrated to be the best of all rusks.

That is why you should insist on 'Ovaltine' Rusks. The youngsters like them, too!

law and order, are now transferred to the Ministers responsible to the Legislature. But the provincial Governors, like the Governor General, are given special responsibilities with corresponding powers to discharge these responsibilities, confined in scope, of course, to their Province.

BIGGER LEGISLATURES.

The Provincial Legislatures are enlarged and the allocation of seats and the method of election will be in accordance with the provisions of the communal award of the 4th August. The present nominated members and the official bloc disappear in favour of wholly elected legislatures, so far as the Lower Houses in the provinces are concerned.

In Bengal, United Provinces and Bihar, the Legislatures will be bicameral, with a small proportion of nominated members, not officials, in the Upper Chambers and in the other eight Provinces unicameral.

For the franchise for the Lower Chamber of the Federal Legislature, the proposals lay down qualifications, the effects of which should be to enfranchise between two and three per cent. of the population of British India and similar, but lower, qualifications for the franchise for the provincial legislatures should produce a provincial electoral electorate of about 14% of the total population of British India or some 27% of the adult population.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

Women can vote and will have seats reserved for them in both the Federal Assembly and the Provincial Legislatures. The proposals confirm the existing rights of the public services.

The Secretary of State's Council for India is abolished and its place is taken by not less than four, and not more than six, advisers. A Federal Court with both original and appellate jurisdiction in cases raising constitutional issues, such as the spheres of the federal, provincial and states authorities, is set up and power is given to establish a Supreme Court to act as a court of appeal in British India. No provision is made for Burma whose decision on the separation question is still awaited.—Reuter and British Wireless.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATIONS

ANNUAL BALL AT PENINSULA

With all the usual festivity, but without any speeches, St. Patrick's Ball, held in the Peninsula Hotel, Rose Room and Roof Garden last night, was an unqualified success from every point of view.

A distinguished gathering was present, including L.'s Excellency the Governor and Lady Peel, H.E. Admiral Sir Frederic C. Dreyer and Lady Dreyer, H.E. Major General O. C. Borrett and Mrs. Borrett, accompanied by their A.D.C.'s.

Precisely at 9.30 p.m., Professor F. A. Redmond (President of the Society), His Honour Sir Joseph Kemp and Mrs. Eldon Potter welcomed the Government House party in the main lounge. Brilliant and appropriate decorations are always a feature of St. Patrick's Ball. This year was no exception. In the hands of Mr. F. P. R. James, both Rose Room and Roof Garden underwent a transformation. The pillars were draped with the Free State colours, green, white and yellow, and from the walls were

COLLECTING FOR TROOPS

THREE MEN ON FRAUD CHARGES

A series of charges of fraud in connexion with the collection of subscriptions from local residents and firms for Chinese soldiers in the North was brought against three Chinese who appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Central Police Court this morning.

(By "Veritas")

CAPT. P. S. Cannon, a brilliant strategist, who forced Tsui Wai-pui to three sets in the Open Singles, yesterday achieved his outstanding performance in local tennis when he defeated L. Goldman, in the semi-final of the Hongkong Cricket Club Championship.

Goldman is the holder of the title, and was strongly fancied to retain it this year. He was decisively beaten 6-0, 6-4, 6-2, the scores reflecting very accurately the measure of superiority which Cannon enjoyed over his opponent.

This performance makes him a warm favourite for the championships, and judged on yesterday's display he should be able to overcome either R. H. Wild or Denis Hazell in the final.

BACKHAND ATTACK

Cannon found his touch from the first delivery, and developing his usual disconcerting attack from the backhand, swept through Goldman as though beating a club champion was the easiest thing in the world.

The winner displayed an impenetrable defence and a greater variety of attacking strokes, so that Goldman found no only his own winning strokes discounted, but that Cannon had one better.

Never recovering from a shaky start, Goldman went right to pieces and played well below form.

Capt. P. S. Cannon.

He constantly netted simple returns, and his volleying, at no times distinctive, offered small worry to Cannon.

Cannon made full use of his cleverly disguised backhand drive, the same shot which puzzled Tsui Wai-pui, and the clever manner in which he varied his length and pace time and again deceived Goldman.

THE RESULTS

The scores of yesterday's matches follow:—

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP.

HANDICAP SINGLES "A."

Semi-final:—Owen Hughes beat Gamble 6-4, 7-5.

HANDICAP SINGLES "B."

JATS BEATEN

LOWER DECK SCORE 6 IN HOCKEY GAME

Playing in a friendly hockey match on the Marina ground yesterday afternoon, the Naval lower Deck team defeated the Jats by 6 to 5. The sailors, however, were somewhat weakened by the absence of Tarr and Rhodes. Abbott (3), McCrae (2) and Richardson netted for the Lower Deck, while the Jats replied through their inside left (2), centre-forward (2) and inside right. The score at the interval was two goals all.

The Lower Deck were slightly the superior team, and the Jats, while being brilliant, were inclined to become erratic at times during the game.

PLAY IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

POSSIBLE INVITATION FROM L.T.A.

SHANGHAI ALSO

Committee Considering Alternative Scheme

HONGKONG may very possibly be invited to send representatives to take part in the 1933 national tennis championships of the Philippine Islands.

This is indicated in a newspaper report, which adds that Shanghai would receive a similar invitation.

The tournament will be conducted during the summer vacation, the dates to be determined at a conference of the P. I. Lawn Tennis Association, which is sitting shortly to discuss the whole programme.

ALTERNATIVES.

Two alternatives will be considered during the meeting in conjunction with the holding of the national net tournament. A proposition to invite tennis player from Hongkong and Shanghai to make the tournament interesting will be submitted. Another proposition to conduct the semi-final and final matches in the provinces in the event that no foreign players will compete will also be discussed.

The success of the last national interscholastic athletic meet held in Cebu in point of attendance has prompted some officials of the P. I. T.A. to consider favourably the proposition to conduct the semi-final and final matches of the national net meet in the provinces. Sports lovers in the province they argue are interested in seeing the Philippines' best racket wielders in action and there will be big attendance in every match.

P. I. TEAM FOR JAVA.

To hold these matches in Manila will not be a success in point of attendance, because tennis enthusiasts are already familiar with the playing of local tennis talent and they would no longer attract big attendance unless they will be playing against visiting luminaries. It is pointed out.

Another reason advanced for holding the tournament in the provinces is that it will be in line with the policy of the local lawn tennis association to popularize the game in distant parts of this archipelago. Another important matter which will be discussed at the meeting is the holding of interscholastic and inter-collegiate tennis meets for the purpose of selecting the best possible material that will make up the team which the association intends to send to Java and other neighbouring countries.

BOXER GETS HAIRCUT TO MAKE WEIGHT

Los Angeles, California. Alberto (Baby) Arizmendi made the weight for a recent bout at the expense of his curly black locks.

At weighing in time Arizmendi was one-quarter pound over the 122-pound limit agreed upon. He went out, ran around the block, but came back still a small fraction of a pound over. His manager grabbed a pair of scissors and without heed to sartorial effect, clipped away his hair until the scales balanced.

SQUASH TITLE SERIES GET UNDERWAY

Cassels, Lindsell and McAuley Win Openers

Competition in the first Shanghai Squash Racquets Championship got under way last week with four matches. Two matches took place at the Columbia Country Club and two at the Foreign Y.M.C.A. On the Columbia Country Club courts H.K. Cassels defeated E. T. Robinson by three games to nil, while A. S. Lindsell triumphed over W. Harrington also in three straight games.

At the Foreign "Y" T. B. McAuley took three games straight from W. S. Heath, while G. K. Stapleton won his match on a walk-over from K. B. Hill, who failed to arrive on time for his match.

Perhaps the only upset took place when Lindsell beat Harrington. The latter has been appearing regularly for the Columbia Country Club in the league while the former is comparatively unknown in local squash competitions. Lindsell won all three games against Harrington, quite easily.

CASSELLS WINS EASILY.

Cassels' win was more or less expected as he is ranked as one of the best players in Shanghai, and is the captain of the strong Country Club team. Robinson is a good player, being a representative of the Columbia Country Club. In this match he was not strong enough for his opponent, who outplayed him in every game.

The closest match took place between McAuley and Heath. Both players put up a big fight with the former eventually winning. The following are the details:—

H. K. Cassels beat E. T. Robinson, 9/5, 9/3, 9/0.

A. S. Lindsell beat W. Harrington, 9/4, 9/3, 9/2.

T. B. McAuley beat W. S. Heath, 9/6, 9/6, 9/1.

G. K. Stapleton w.o. K. B. Hill.

SOVIET ADOPTS NEW BOXING RULES

Important Events Will Consist of Five 3- Minute Rounds

Moscow, March 10. Several boxing rules have been changed and new ones introduced by the Supreme Council of Physical Culture. Under the new rules, bouts in important inter-city and All-Union boxing contests will consist of five three-minute rounds. Bouts in factory tournaments will consist of two two-minute rounds. No draw decisions will be given; only a win or a loss. This new rule demands better judgment and more precise scoring of points by referees and judges.

WEIGH DAILY.

During a two or three-day meet, boxers will have to weigh themselves daily. This will eliminate the starvation diet to which overweight fighters sometimes subject themselves. The doctor is the only one privileged to stop a bout in the first round when one fighter is apparently the victor. He may also forbid work-outs, or even matches for boxers, if they are not examined at least three days before a fight.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

Romantic lighting has struck a second time at a certain oasis on a certain stretch of California desert. Sadly enough, there was a catch each time—a battery of movie cameras were on hand to catch each and every development. For the first occasion was the big romantic scene from "The Sheik", starring the late Rudolph Valentino. And the second was for "Devil and the Deep", starring Talulah Bankhead and Gary Cooper, which opens on Sunday next at the King's Theatre. The scene in "Devil and the Deep" which was filmed at the location occurs after Miss Bankhead, driven to distraction by the raging of her insanely jealous husband, rushes out into a crowd of Moslems, celebrating a religious festival. Nearly crushed by the mob, she is rescued by Cooper, and two seeking rest, ride out into the desert. At the end, they dismount, and, impressed by the loveliness of the night, they yield to its enchantment. Later, the husband, a submarine commander, gets them aboard his craft, takes it to sea and sinks it, as his revenge.

Human Touches Stressed

Problems of divorce sound rather sophisticated for Jackie Cooper, but he makes from them one of the most poignant, gripping roles in his brief meteoric career. In "Divorce in the Family," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's vivid new talkie now playing at the Queen's Theatre. Any who want to see the aspects of divorce from the viewpoint of a child affected by it will find Jackie's new vehicle a revelation. Aside from that, with its comedy, its thrills, its drama and its heart interest, it is one of the most delectable entertainments in many a moon. Charles F. Riesner directed the new production, blending comedy and heart interest skillfully into an engrossing whole. The play is based on an original by Maurice Rapp. Jackie plays the role of Terry, the stepchild. Maurice Murphy enacts his older brother—who gets "puppy love" to Jackie's disgust. There is much comedy in this angle of the play. There are thrills in a river wreck and rescue; drama in the court sequence where the children are remanded to their stepfather in the operation where the doctor gives his blood to save his stepson's life. Lewis Stone is convincing as the archaeologist father and he and Jackie have some remarkable dramatic scenes, as have also Jackie and Lois Wilson in the mother role. Conrad Nagel is ideal as the crisp young physician, and Jean Parker, Lawrence Grant, Richard Wallace and David Newell also do well in the competent cast.

"Man From Yesterday"

American almost lost its leading English film star when Clive Brook, on a recent visit to his native England, was approached by a British film company with an offer to star in an English-made production. Brook refused the offer. Brook, who cut his English visit short to return to Hollywood for his role in "The Man From Yesterday", said:—"England, at this time, cannot expect to make successful motion pictures without the acting talent and technical skill now available in Hollywood. Without such an organization, nothing could induce me to make a picture in England". In "The Man From Yesterday", showing at the King's Theatre, Brook is co-featured with Claudette Colbert. Charles Boyer, the popular European stage star, makes his American screen debut in this picture. Brook pointed to this combination of supporting strength as evidence of the way Hollywood attracts acting talent from every source. The action of this drama required an exceptional amount of technical talent to portray. The scenes dealt swiftly with the war and war-time Paris, then switch to peace-time Paris and a vacation spot in the Swiss Alps.

Blondie of the Follies

Marion Davies, star of "Blondie of the Follies" opening to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre, was to this Brooklyn, N.Y., and made her theatrical debut on Broadway in Dillingham and Ziegfeld musical shows. Her first film in silent days was "Cecilia of the Pink Roses." Her first talking film was "Marianne." Since then she has been the leading comedienne of the Follies. Previous to her current vehicle she was co-starred with Clark Gable in "Polly of the Circus." In "Blondie of the Follies," Marion Davies and Billie Dove portray the two New York tenement butterflies with Montgomery enacting the role of the butterfly chaser. The screen play is an original by Frances Marion, who wrote "Emma," "Min and Bill," and "The Big House." Anita Loos, of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" fame, contributed additional dialogue.

"Back Street"

Fannie Hurst's most absorbing story, "Back Street" is showing for the last time to-day at the Central Theatre, with John Boles and Irene Dunne in the leading roles. John M. Stahl directed "Back Street", with Gladys Lehman writing the screen adaptation. This popular novel follows the life-long romance of Ray Schmidt and Wilhelmina Saxel, and the story covers a span of twenty years. The supporting cast includes June Clyde, George Meeker, William Bakewell, Zasu Pitts and many others.

"States Attorney"

John Barrymore and Helen Twelvetrees head the cast of "States Attorney", the RKO-Radio picture coming to the Central Theatre next week. Telling a fast-moving story which combines colourful romance with tense drama of the criminal courts, "States Attorney" presents Barrymore as a debonaire prosecutor who wins the ladies and convicts the criminals with dash and fire. Miss Twelvetrees plays the girl who teaches him what love really means. Others in the cast are William

MONEY SHORTAGE

New York, Mar. 17.

A decrease of 269 million dollars in the amount of money in circulation last week is recorded in a Federal Reserve Bank statement, which shows an increase in the gold reserve of 327 millions.

The new emergency currency now in circulation totalled $3,301,000.

The resignation of Mr. Joseph Wright Harriman, President of the Harriman National Bank and Trust Company, who was arrested on Tuesday, has been accepted by the Board of his Bank and a committee of depositors has been formed to conduct an independent investigation into the Bank's affairs.

The district Attorney now estimates that the amount involved in the alleged false entries is $1,601,000.

Mr. Albert Wiggin has resigned his Directorship of the Federal Reserve Board in New York. There are now two vacancies on the Board as Mr. Woodin recently resigned to accept the Secretaryship of the Treasury.—Reuters's Special.

(stage) Boyd, Jill Eamond, Mary Dugan, Raoul Roulien and many others. George Archambaud directed the picture. The story was written by Louis Stevens, and Gene Fowler is the author of the screen play.

"Igloo"

"Igloo", a Universal motion picture drama recently filmed in and about a storm-swept village of the ice igloos on Point Barrow, Alaska; and said to be the most remarkable picture ever produced in the Arctic, comes to the Central Theatre on Sunday, telling a thrilling and intimate story of the lives of these strange people. "Igloo" was made by Ewing Scott, who spent seven months in the village, and who obtained for the leading role in the picture a stalwart young Eskimo named Chook-Ak, standing more than six feet in height, and regarded by his fellows as a veritable giant.

SPARY CASE AGAIN IN COURT

wife and taking her by the arm at the same time saying something to her which he did not hear. It appeared to him then that Mrs. Spary was inclined to resent Mr. Spary at the time. He then saw Mr. Spary turn round and speak to some civilian. While talking to the civilian he was struck down by someone in the crowd. Witness then picked up Mr. Spary with the assistance of Sergeant Prior and carried him to a ricksha. He then went back to look for Mr. Spary's hat, but could not find it. Mrs. Spary was not there when he came out again.

The Blow.

Mr. Lo: When Mr. Spary was struck and fell to the ground did you hear any exclamation by anybody?

Witness: Yes. Immediately after Mr. Spary was struck down, Mrs. Spary who was standing at the corner rushed across and said: "Oh, Spuds, oh Spuds, they have killed you."

The condition of Mr. Spary at the time was perfectly sober, said witness in reply to a last question by Mr. Lo.

Replying to Mr. Evans, witness said that the blow seemed to come from nowhere, and he did not see it being struck. He only saw Mr. Spary lying on the ground and had then assisted in picking him up.

Mr. Evans: I suggest it to you that if Mrs. Spary resented it, it was because Mr. Spary was very drunk?—No. Whatever he had, had no effect on him.

Mr. A. Mann, Manager of the Duro Motor Co. Ltd., said he attended the dance with his wife. At the conclusion they were about to leave when his wife said she wanted a drink. Returning from the bar with it to where his wife was standing, outside the hall, he noticed Mr. and Mrs. Spary, and had to go by them to reach his wife. At that moment Mr. Spary suddenly turned round and the glass being inadvertently struck, the contents were spilled on witness' wife. Mrs. Mann told Mr. Spary about his having to be careful and Mr. Spary replied, "You mind your own business."

Did Not Approve.

Witness then spoke to Mr. Spary himself and told him he did not approve of Spary speaking to his wife in the way he did, after spilling the drink on her. Mr. Spary then said he thought she was addressing him on something else. He said he was having trouble with his wife.

"I told Mr. Spary I was not interested at all," said witness. "The next moment he had his hands on my shoulder and said, 'Sorry, old chap.' The same moment Mr. Spary was struck down on the ground by a blow in the face about the jaw. He fell and I assisted in picking him up. Mr. Spary was in an excited condition, but was not drunk."

Leading Stoker Wright, of H.M.S. Otus, told the Court he was the person who struck the blow. He said he saw Mr. Spary extend one arm towards Mr. Mann and was under the impression that Mr. Spary was going to strike Mr. Mann. Accordingly, he (witness) struck Mr. Spary to prevent him from striking Mr. Mann.

A Mistake.

Witness had since discovered his mistake, that the movement was only a friendly gesture. He had taken the trouble since to seek Mr. Spary out personally and apologise. That apology was accepted by Mr. Spary.

Replying to Mr. Evans, witness admitted that he was informed of his mistake by Mr. Mann, but at the time he really thought that a blow was intended. Both Mr. Spary and Mr. Mann were friends of his, and his intervention in that form was purely urged by a consideration that Mr. Mann was being accompanied by his wife, and he wished to spare Mr. Mann any unpleasantness.

The case was again adjourned.

The annual meeting of the members of the French Library, under the patronage of the French Consul, was held at the offices of the French Consulate in Alexandra Building last evening. The Honorary President, President, Mr. R. Soulanges-Telsier (Chev. Leg. Hon.) was in the chair, supported by the President of the French Library, Mr. J. B. Montargis (Chev. Leg. Hon.).

It was stated that the library is running smoothly and has benefited by several donations and gifts of books. The President said that it was gratifying to find that the number of books in the library was increasing and that there were now nearly 3,000 volumes on the shelves. TUNG WAH HOSPITAL.

RECONSTRUCTION TO COST HALF MILLION DOLLARS

The reconstruction of the Tung Wah Hospital in Po Yan Street, which may require the expenditure of over $500,000, is having the serious consideration of the new Board of Directors under the chairmanship of Mr. Eun Hui-chio. The Directors have contributed over $70,000 towards this scheme, but the strong support of wealthy residents will be needed to find the further amount required to make the work possible.

The three Chinese representatives on the Legislative Council together with Sir Shou-son Chow have been working most energetically with the hospital Directors, and they held a meeting earlier this week in connexion with the scheme.

JAPANESE SHIP SINKS

Shanghai, Mar. 17.
It is reported that 13 survivors from the ill-fated Japanese freighter Kinsen Maru, which sank on Tuesday, 400 miles east of Bowen, Australia, have been picked up by the Hida Maru which is continuing the search for the other members of the crew of which 25 are believed to be still missing.

The survivors said all the crew had to leap for their lives before the lifeboats were launched, as the freighter rapidly sank. They luckily saw a lifeboat which had broken adrift from the vessel, swam Mukden, Mar. 17.

An appalling death toll attended a collision between a passenger train and a freighter to-day. It is estimated that 50 are dead, and 70 have been injured.

The freighter crashed into the rear of the passenger train, which had halted after having been partially derailed between Cheng-chiatun and Supingkai.—Reuter.

WUCHOW CABLE THEFTS

SUPPOSED THIEF CAPTURED

Wuchow, Mar. 16.
With the arrest yesterday afternoon of a man who had in his possession rolls of electric cable, the Wuchow police hope they have apprehended the thief who has been the author of a series of robberies during the last few weeks. The cable was the property of the local authorities and kept disappearing at the rate of thousands of feet, until the authorities offered a reward of $500 for the capture, or $300 for information leading to the arrest of the culprit.

When they captured the man, constables bound him and then wound the electric cable about his body until he could barely walk. He was then driven to the police station. The man is now in jail awaiting trial.—Our Own Correspondent.

PRISON STAFF RULES

DISMISSAL POWER CHANGES

The Gazette notifies that Rule No. 117 of the Prison Rules, has been rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

(2) Every subordinate officer shall be liable to instant dismissal by the Governor in any of the following cases:—(a) in case of any breach of his duties as such officer or of any of these rules; (b) if it appears to the Governor that such officer is in serious pecuniary embarrassment and that such embarrassment impairs the efficiency of such officer.

If upon considering the case of any subordinate officer the Governor is of opinion that the officer does not deserve to be dismissed, but deserves some lesser punishment, he may inflict one or more of the following punishments, that is to say, reduction in rank, forfeiture of seniority, forfeiture of pay, and forfeiture of increments as seems proper in the circumstances.

taxi, and retraced her footsteps, only to be knocked down by the vehicle, the driver of which had made an attempt to avert the accident by a sudden swerving.

The young woman was struck by one of the front mudguards, and received what appears to be internal injuries of a rather serious character. She was taken to the Government Civil Hospital in the taxi, the European passenger assisting.

A statement regarding the circumstances of the accident was being made to the police by the European this morning.

NEW PASSPORT RULES

WUCHOW TAKING ACTION

Wuchow, Mar. 16.
A stricter supervision of the goings and comings of foreigners in Wuchow is being inaugurated by the local authorities. Blanks to be filled in are provided for foreign travellers on steamers entering the port from Hongkong, and up-country travellers are required to produce a passport or some other means of identification.

The reason for these new regulations is the number of foreigners who pass through the city and province without passports or any means of identification.—Our Own Correspondent.
